

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A rotating hubcap comprised of a hubcap having a hole in the center, a seat, and a bearing installed in the seat. A turntable is pivotably positioned in the seated bearing, a revolving member is fastened onto the turntable, the opening in the 5 center of the revolving member is sleeved onto the shaft member on the turntable, and the shaft members on the turntable exposed through the revolving member opening are then inserted into the bearing, such that the revolving member gyrates independently as a motor vehicle is driven.